#causeascene Career Coaching Fair - Berlin 2019 Partner Prospectus

First and foremost, thank you for your interest in partnering with #causeascene Conference! Your support helps marginalized members of the community share their stories and further their careers.

Building on the success of five #causeascene events in 2018, we have decided to include a career coaching fair to the Berlin 2019 event. This fair will connect marginalized folks in tech with career coaches who can advise them on their career choices and this is where you come in!

We are looking for companies to send representatives to the Berlin 2019 edition of #causeascene Conference on June 8, 2019 at the [Location - TBA]. The job fair will run from 10:00 - 16:00. Partnering with #causeascene is a great way to support marginalized folks in tech by providing them with the connections and coaching necessary to succeed in our industry.

Questions and Answers

What exactly is a Career Coaching fair?

Job fairs are somewhat common at conferences and we're bringing our spin on it to #causeascene Conf. Companies looking to hire, send representatives to these fairs and chat with attendees who are looking for a job. We're mixing things up a bit though with a career coaching fair.

A career coaching fair provides a space for folks looking for career advice and people willing to coach to connect. Coaching can include anything from answering coding questions, to job interviewing tips, to advice for navigating less-than-inclusive spaces as a member of marginalized group(s).
